New Life

is given by using BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. In the Winter it strengthens and warms the system; in the Spring it enriches the blood and conquers disease; in the Summer it gives tone to the nerves and digestive organs; in the Fall it enables the system to stand the shock of sudden changes.

In no way can disease be so surely prevented as by keeping the system in perfect condition. BROWN'S IRON BITTERS ensures perfect health through the changing seasons, it disarms the danger from impure water and miasmatic air, and it prevents Consumption, Kidney and Liver Disease, &c.

H. S. Berlin, Esq., of the well-known firm of H. S. Berlin & Co., Attorneys, Le Droit Building, Washington, D. C., writes, Dec. 5th, 1881:

Gentlemen: I take pleasure in stating that I have used BROWN'S IRON BITTERS for malaria and nervous troubles, caused by overwork, with excellent results.

Beware of imitations. Ask for BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, and insist on having it. Don't be imposed on with something recommended as "just as good." The genuine is made only by the Brown Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md.

FUNNY FANCIES.

A little Augusta three-year-old rebuked her mother for alluding to a black cat. She said it was a "colored" cat.

For a week the refrain had been that Tightwad was sinking fast. At last the news came that all was over. "Alas!" cried Fogg, "still sinking!"

Red-headed student to professor: "Professor, why is it that you never seem to recognize me on the street?" Professor: "Well, Mr. X., the truth is I am slightly color-blind."

"Pay that $10 to-day?" "Why, my dear sir, do you expect a man to take Christmas money to pay debts? No, sir! no, sir! I still have a warm heart in my bosom, sir!"

A French chemist thinks he can resuscitate a human body after it has been frozen a few weeks. He might experiment on Oscar Wilde, and if he missed the combination people would be just as well satisfied.

"Perhaps I haven't been so lucky as some," remarked Brown; "but for all that, there's lots of people who would like to stand in my shoes." "And no doubt they could all do it," said Fogg, with a glance at Brown's thirties.

"It appears to give general satisfaction among my customers, and I do not hesitate to recommend it."

R. M. King of Grantville writes: "I have always kept it in stock. It has a few very warm friends who know its valuable properties from experience. I have always recommended it when choice was left."

Glad News for the Unfortunate. "Henry's Specific" will cure nervous debility, impotence, and all weaknesses of generative organs. Thousands restored to health by this remedy who had tried every known means. It stops the unnatural drain upon the system that destroys body and mind. Acts specifically on the reproductive organs, giving strength and tone. Place perfect confidence in this greatest of all "Remedial Agents." Sent by mail securely sealed with advice on receipt of money. Price, one dollar. Six packages, five dollars.

THE SENATORIAL OUTLOOK.

The New York Times has a broadside of specials this morning from States soon to hold elections for U. S. Senators, of which the sum-up is as follows: In the 16 States to elect Frye has received a caucus nomination in Maine and will be re-elected; Garland will be re-elected without opposition in Arkansas; Plumb is very sure to be re-elected in Kansas; in New Jersey McPherson counts with security on going to Washington as his own successor, mainly through the power of his long purse, judiciously used. In Massachusetts Hoar's path is heavily beset, and should he fail in convention Long will probably be chosen, though there is a possibility of Butler creeping in. In Minnesota Windom's chances are good. In Michigan Ferry is contending with somewhat doubtful prospects. In Delaware Ransom will probably be re-elected. In Tennessee Harris will probably go back. In Connecticut the election of Pitken would be gratifying to the party at large. It is too soon to foretell with certainty the political complexion of the Senate after the third of March, but there is a probability that Republicans will have a majority only by the aid of the Virginia Readjusters; in which case it would be far better to leave the organization of the Senate to the Democrats than to purchase the co-operation of the Virginia Senators by such concessions as they have been in the habit of demanding.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Herbert Spencer, one of the greatest men who ever visited this country from England, went home a few days ago, being accompanied to the steamer by a few friends, and wished a happy journey. He did not make a dollar on his lectures, and went home out of pocket. Tug Wilson and Oscar Wilde, one a bruiser and the other a feeble-minded person who makes a fortune trying to play the fool, made a cartload of money and created enthusiasm wherever they went. Why was it so?

We suggest that as the Grand Jury is making a thorough examination of Washoe county's government, that they in their report signify what reductions in running expenses could safely be made and get the matter before the people and the Legislature. We would like to see other counties take similar action.

"A Taxpayer," in another column, has a suggestion on the salary law. It is believed that county officers do not try as hard to make fees as when they were their own. A certain officer in a certain county collected $7,000 fees the year before the law took effect and $2,000 the year after.

We can imagine that economy might be gained by combining two counties, but what saving can be effected by changing a county boundary we cannot see. Mr. Parker's bill to give Ormsby part of Washoe county has no support outside of Carson that we have heard of.

Fifteen cents per mile is more than members of the Legislature should be allowed for travelling. They should be allowed only actual expenses, which nowhere in Nevada exceeds 10 cents a mile. To allow fancy figures in such things is to tempt men to be dishonest.

We would be glad to hear more from the company organized some time since in Winnemucca for the purpose of boring an artesian well. We hoped for good results from it, but it is very quiet lately.

Ireland as a National Mendicant.

LONDON, Jan. 11.
 Davitt, speaking at Berkenhead last night, referred to the distress in the west of Ireland. He said that it was humiliating that Ireland should stand before the world time after time as a mendicant. The people of Ireland had got enough of futile agitation and semi-insurrection, and they were going to fight it out this time.

MILWAUKEE, Jan. 11.

Twenty-four hours have elapsed since the most terrible catastrophe that ever befell Milwaukee, and the immensity of the dreadful disaster seems to increase instead of wane with fleeting time. A dread seems to creep over everyone passing the huge pile of smoking ruins that mark the place where only two days ago the palatial Newhall House stood with its 200 inmates, who awoke yesterday morning from their slumbers to stand face to face with the grim reaper. Snow had been falling all night, silently weaving a shroud for many—how many nobody can ask without a shudder on beholding what is left.

Among the missing who cannot be accounted for are the following: Lizzy Kelly, waiter; May Owens, table girl. Her sister Maggie, who occupied the room with her, was killed by leaping from the third-story window. Many are supposed to be in the ruins. R. H. Onnie of Milwaukee, conductor of the Wisconsin Railroad; May Anderson, waiter; Dr. A. Herman of Milwaukee, a dressmaker are known to be in the ruins. Prof. B. Mason of the German-American Academy, Mrs. B. Mason, his wife; Julia Fogarty, waiter. Norah Flanagan, waiter; Capt. G. P. Vase, U. S. Civil Engineer, in charge of the river and harbor improvements in Milwaukee; Geo. Lamrey, in charge of the coast-room, were last seen in the hall on the third floor. S. A. Brown of Philadelphia was known to have been in the building.

The following have to be added to the death list: Julia Curtin, Walter Scott, Mary Anderson, Walter Gilliland, W. Gilliland, making 45 dead and missing.

Many might have been saved if some immediate attempts at systematic rescue had been made. In the halls of the hotel was a scene of the wildest confusion. Men, women and children rushed up and down in dense, suffocating smoke, avoiding the blinding flames and roaring blaze, and in their frantic efforts rushing by stairways and windows leading to fire escapes and stumbling over bodies lying unconscious on the carpeted walks. The fire apparently started on the third floor and before the department got the steamers fairly in position the flames had enveloped the whole south-east corner of the building. The multitude, which by this time had swelled to thousands, stood in perfect awe, but few having self-possession and resolution enough to lend a helping hand on the canvasses stretched out to rescue those of the despairing inmates who risked a leap down to the stone side-walk 100 feet below. A poor fellow stood on the cornice of the fifth story corner window so long, not daring the fearful leap, that finally he became bewildered, to judge by his actions, or dumbfounded by the smoke, and slid off his perch to the canvas below. The few who held it could not give it the necessary resistance, and the body fell unhindered by the canvass with a crash which sent a shudder through every witness.

In the sixth story window right over this unfortunate sat the figure of a man crouched on the window sill gazing like one absent minded into the fiery abyss below; motionless, but from time to time sending out a heart-rending shriek. Steadily the flames encroached upon him, but he did not seem to mind it. When the flames singed his hair and licked his night clothes, he gave one despairing look to the crowd below and tumbled back into the sea of fire.

The scene in the alley west of the burning building was sickening. As early as 6 o'clock the bodies of seven unfortunate waiter girls were stretched upon the snow and ice with broken limbs, writhing in agony until death ended their sufferings. After almost superhuman efforts ladders were stretched from the roof of the bank building across the alley-way to the sixth story of the hotel, and brave fire-brigades carried ten girls across the frail bridge, four of them dead.

A man and woman appeared at a window of the third story. They were recognized as Allen Johnson and his wife. Canvass was stretched below the windows of their apartments and a thousand voices called, beseeching them to jump. Johnson kissed his wife, then leaped into the air and shot downward into the canvass, but his weight was such that the canvass pulled out of the hands of the few who held it, and he alighted on the ground with deadly force. His wife followed, and her body struck the veranda and fell to the ground lifeless. About a dozen jumped from the Michigan street front. Each leap meant death or shattered limbs, and not less than four unfortunates at one time lay upon the icy sidewalk, clad only in night shirts, with blood and brains oozing from wounds through which bones protruded.

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.
 The following interesting details are given respecting the Newhall fire: Police-tenant Wood says in regard to the origin of the fire and the rapidity with which it spread: "I was in my office when the alarm sounded and I reached the building before the engines began to play. The flames were filling the elevator and breaking out on the different floors. I ran to the third story and helped one lady make her way down stairs. I then turned to go back, but no man could have gone up to that third story and lived. It did not seem more than a minute from the time I left the door till I tried to get back, but in that little time the fire had filled all the building above the second story. As far as its origin is concerned, I can't see how it could be hastened unless somebody set it. So far as now known, not a single Pacific Coast was connected with the fire—not one name from the Far West appeared in the list of lost, injured or saved."

Mrs. S. W. Brown, wife of the general yard master of the Chicago & Northwestern, is dead. Mr. Brown made a rope of sheets, which he tied to a sewing machine. He slid down and received but slight injuries. After reaching a foot-hold he called to his wife to follow, but she did not, and a few moments later was buried beneath a mass of falling brick in her room.

Miss Libbie Chellis, for 10 years in charge of the dress-making department of T. A. Chapman's store, occupied a room in one of the upper stories fronting on Michigan street. Surrounded by flames she appeared at a window and for an instant looked imploringly down at the throng below, and then fell back into the vortex of fire and perished. There was a fire-escape within her reach, but the poor woman was so completely overcome by the horror of the situation that she was powerless to act.

Judson Hough of Peoria, Ill., who had both legs broken and received other internal injuries by jumping from the fifth story window into canvass held by firemen, has died. Mr. Hough was visiting the family of Allen Johnson. It was a touching scene when he tried to tell bystanders where he lived. He spelled out the words "Peoria," "wife and baby."

Charles Kelsey and Ann Kelsey, with the Tom Thumb Opera Company, are missing and were undoubtedly burned to death.

Mrs. Sylvester Blecher, wife of the manager of the Tom Thumb Company, is at Plankinton House under medical treatment, but is not expected to live. Death is momentarily expected. The other members of the company are safe.

The scene at the ruins is weird in the extreme. A heavy snow storm prevails. The terrible calamity has so dazed people that with few exceptions they stand like grim spectators, unmoved, surveying the scene hourly. Business in the city is entirely suspended, and merchants and mechanics are gathered in the neighborhood of the smouldering ruins or are discussing the horror in stores and saloons.

J. T. Ritchie of Louisville, Ky., said he was awakened about 4 o'clock by a great noise and clatter. He partially dressed and then found the hotel on fire. He was on the floor over the office and on opening the door found the corridor full of smoke. He worked his way to the corner room and found a man partially dressed tearing his sheets and blankets into shreds and twisting them into a rope. Ritchie pulled a bedstead up to the window and attached the hastily improvised rope to it, and then the two descended to the balcony. A ladder was placed against it and they reached the ground. Ritchie says the scene was appalling. An old woman was lying on the balcony with both legs broken and otherwise badly injured. She was moaning and wailing and crying most piteously for some one to carry her away.

Orange Williams of Jacksonville, who escaped from the building with severe burns, states that in walking along the wall he stumbled over at least six or eight bodies. He says all along the hall could be heard screams and heart-rending moans, as if many poor unfortunates were in the pangs of death. In all probability the bodies of those persons are buried beneath the ruins.

John Gilbert, comedian with the Minnie Palmer Company, jumped from a third-story window with his wife in his arms. About the same time a man, Johnson, jumped from the window above. He jumped on Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert, and the united weight of both men crushed the wife to death. The actor's head was cut and bruised in a frightful manner and he was picked up in an unconscious state. They were married the day previous to the fatal catastrophe, at Chicago. Her maiden name was Gertie Sutton, daughter of W. Sutton, Steuben county, N. Y. She was not an actress, but a young lady of culture and refinement. When Mrs. Gilbert's body reached the morgue an Irishman identified the corpse as that of his daughter. He at once proceeded to strip from the fingers of the dead woman her sparkling rings and wrenched the ornaments from her ears. At that moment old Mrs. Donohue reached the morgue and with a passionate burst of grief recognized the body as that of her daughter-in-law. "It is my child!" cried the alleged father, still stripping the jewelry from the dead woman's person. The old lady and the robber confronted each other, and the painful scene, amid the ghastly surroundings, created the greatest confusion.

The Attorney-General's Opinion Concerning Chinese.
 NEW YORK, Jan. 11.

The opinion of the Attorney-General that Chinese laborers passing through the United States to other countries are not required, before crossing our borders, to produce the specified certificate of identification, provided they competently prove their character, reached Folger to-day. He will give the matter immediate attention and prepare such regulations as are required to secure a proper observance of the spirit of the new decision. Rosecrans and other members from the Pacific slope will call upon the Secretary and insist upon such precautions being taken as will prevent the possibility of any of these traveling laborers dropping out on their way across the country on any pretext whatever, as they believe advantage will be taken of any opportunity given them.

The Rights of Counties.
 INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 11.

The Superior Court gave a decision to-day which, if the principle announced therein is carried out, will cost the State $200,000. It is that the State must return money paid by counties into the State Treasury by mistake or otherwise in excess of the balance due.

Jem Mace's Pet Meets a Heavy Hitter.
 SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.

The Olympic Club gave an athletic exhibition last evening, in the course of which Jem Mace's protegee, Slade, had a set-to with George M. Robinson, the champion heavy-weight boxer of the Club and a man of fine physique, having a record of putting up a dumb-bell weighing 200½ pounds. In this match Slade did not appear to so great advantage as in his bout with Mace. He seemed less confident than when boxing with one whose style he knew, and Robinson had rather the best of the set-to. Tommy Chandler, an prize fighter, expressed the opinion that Slade was no match for Sullivan, in which several sports present concurred.

NEVADA THEATER.

The Presentation of "Esmeralda" Promises to be the Event of the Season.

About seventy seats have already been secured for this beautiful domestic drama. The Madison Square Company will be greeted by one of the best audiences ever seen in the theater. The eastern press speaks in glowing terms of the play. The New York Herald says: "In the elegant and thoroughly artistic designs employed in the stage setting, and the handsome and beautiful costumes in which the characters were dressed, there was every evidence of generous assistance from the management; and the reception of the piece by the house proved, in the frequent and hearty applause which marked the principal points of the play, that the beauty, simplicity, and naturalness of the story told effectively with the audience."

The New York Dramatic News says: It tells a tale of home life so truly, and with such touching simplicity, that it appeals to the memory and awakens recollections of just such an unobscured girl as "Esmeralda," with the every-day romance of life, and the faults and foibles to be found in every household. For so plain and unvarnished a story the interest excited is really surprising.

The following portrait of "Esmeralda," in "Esmeralda," by Mrs. Barnett, is worthy a place in memory's art gallery:

"His face was tanned and seemed as if with years of rough outdoor labor; the effect produced upon him by his clothes was plainly one of actual suffering, both physical and mental. His stiff hands refused to meet the efforts of his gloves to fit them; his body shrank from his garments; if he had not been pathetic he would have been ridiculous. But he was pathetic. It was evident he was not so attired of his own free will; that only a patient nature, inured by long custom to discomfort, sustained him."

Act second (the studio scene) in "Esmeralda" is perhaps one of the most agreeable portraits yet given to the stage by an American playwright. The scene is fairly replete with dainty humor and polished repartee, and deals most deliciously with those petty trifles light as air, that mark the Parisian artist's life. An enthusiastic auditor has termed it "a fantasia of esthetic foibles set to the rattle of china and bric-a-brac."

It is fact worth noticing that there are not half a dozen empty houses in Reno. This shows that the town has vitality.

M. C. Lake is having a large portion of his land west of the Lake House property cleared off, and will set out a large orchard in place of the rocks and sagebrush which now abound there.

A large quantity of iron rails are going east daily for the Denver & Rio Grande road. It comes from the East by way of the Southern Pacific road, thus making a great loop. The railroad differences are very interesting to contemplate.

A Valuable Animal Seriously Injured.

Last evening about 5 o'clock, says the Sacramento Bee of yesterday, while the well-known race mare Duchess of Norfolk, the property of Theodore Winters, was being exercised in a vacant lot near her stable at Agricultural Park, she became playful and started to running around the lot. Her trainer, thinking she might get hurt, started a boy out with a halter to catch her, but before he succeeded she ran against the blunt end of a scantling which struck her the stifle joint and threw her down, causing a badly mangled bone and dangerous wound, which may necessitate her retirement from the turf, or may result far more dangerously.

Narrow Escape of Two Ladies from Serious Injury.

Yesterday Mrs. M. T. Coats and her daughter had a narrow escape from serious if not fatal injury. They were riding in a buggy across the Truckee River bridge at Glendale, when the horses became frightened and started to backing, shoving the buggy and its occupants off the bridge. They had a fall of six feet, and singular to say, were not injured beyond sustaining a few bruises. Dick Friston, Henry Whistler and Louis Dean saw the accident and immediately ran to the rescue of the ladies, and succeeded in releasing them from their unpleasant dilemma. The horse was somewhat scratched and the buggy had a wheel broken.

Antelope Bullion.

The Antelope mine sent in five handsome bars of bullion last evening, to be shipped to Boston. There are worse things to have than a mine.

AMENDMENTS.

More Discussion on the Organic Law of the State.

WHAT CHANGES ARE NECESSARY

Sweeping Reductions Demanded by a Public Meeting of Citizens.

The adjourned meeting of citizens at the Baptist Church last evening was larger than the original meeting and a great deal of interesting debate was the result. The resolution declaring in favor of amendments in favor of a new Constitution was unanimously adopted. The committee reported in favor of abolishing the offices of Attorney General, Controller, Superintendent of Public Instruction and Surveyor-General, placing the work of Controller and Surveyor-General upon the Secretary of State, and that of Superintendent of Public Instruction on the Lieutenant-Governor. A minority of the committee reported in favor of giving women the right of suffrage. The debate on that question was postponed. An amendment was recommended, making incorporators of companies liable for the debts of the same, as in partnerships. Another to repeal all laws authorizing the employment of deputies and restricting clerk hire to $500 a year. Also in regard to the University, to allow it to devote more attention to mining. Another to allow Courts to prevent the attendance of jurors when not wanted, by the same officer that summons them, and thus save paying their wages when they are not needed; also, to allow County Commissioners to allow for actual work done by county officers needing deputies and no more. To amend the revenue laws so the day of assessing should come on the same day as California, in order to prevent enterprising citizens from stepping over the border when the assessor is due. To amend the law so as to make it necessary for citizens to be a year in the State and six months in the county in order to vote, and to limit members of the Legislature to

THEIR ACTUAL FARE

Paid out in lieu of a mileage fee. Senator Schooling and Assemblyman Fish opposed the abolition of the office of Controller. Mr. Schooling recommended that the duties of Secretary of State devolve on the Treasurer, and let the Controller do the work of the Surveyor-General. He also recommended that the office of Lieutenant-Governor be abolished and the Superintendent of Instruction's duties devolve on the Clerk of the Supreme Court. It was held by him and Mr. Fish that the Controller was the more important officer. He was the financial leader, and he should be retained in preference to the Secretary of State, whose duties were more clerical. Others held that he was simply the State book-keeper and his work was mere routine in its nature. Bobo suggested that it made very little difference what name was given the office as it was the officer and not the duties that was to be dispensed with. Mr. Leete was in favor of doing away with the office of Lieutenant-Governor and the other offices also. He said the office of Surveyor-General cost $8,000 to $10,000 a year with no result at all. It ought not to cost $1,000. All there was to be done was to keep a record of applications for land and give the necessary certificates. J. F. Alexander said that Senator Marker came over last Monday to attend the meeting and found the house dark. He was anxious to know what was needed, and would be here whenever a due notice of a meeting was given. Leete spoke of the suggestion made by the GAZETTE some time ago, that mines be taxed for real estate like other property, and hoped it would be discussed. The meeting adjourned for one week.

CHANGE OF TUNE.

A Big Difference between Tweedle Dum and Tweedle Dee.

The following item, says the Post, is kept standing in the Carson newspaper offices from one legislative session to the next: "Taken as a whole, the members of this Legislature are the best and most intelligent looking body of men that have met in this city in many years. Judging from their appearance it is not unsafe to predict that they will not waste the State's time." After the Legislature has adjourned and the members gone home an item appears something like this: "The unmitigated scum that have afflicted our city with their detested presence, and spitting tobacco juice on our beautiful sidewalks, for the past 60 days, have returned to their beans and bacon in the 'Great East,' and may they stay there ever more—till the next session. We are happy to state that our Sheriff, Constable, police force and hotel-keepers did not allow one of them to leave town with a cent. Carson's prosperity is assured for another two years."

N. & O. Arrivals.

The following named persons arrived on the N. & O. train from the north last night: L. A. Hall, J. Pingston, W. M. Knott, Mrs. Knott, B. F. Rogers, all of Quincy.

THE ANTELOPE.

A Mine That Does Not Want Free Advertising.

THE WORK DONE THIS WINTER

The Main Shaft to go Down and the Tunnel to go In.

A GAZETTE reporter made a brief call at the Antelope mine on Tuesday. It has become something of a puzzle to outsiders here, as the officers and men seem rather inclined to devote their energies to work under ground than to gossip with the neighbors. All the other mines around Reno have been big bonanzas from the time the shovel first struck the claim, and many a man has been rich, in his mind, from dividends pictured out by visionary prospects. The Antelope, on the contrary, has gone quietly down and been run as if it was to make money out of and not notoriety. Some time ago, in order to satisfy public interest, this paper gave a description of all that was to be seen in and on the claim, which it was able to do through the courtesy of the superintendent, Captain Griffin, who said he desired neither to advertise nor conceal anything about it. A present inspection shows that since that time a good deal of valuable work has been done and some interesting discoveries made. A crosscut has been pushed through to the big ledge which crops out

IN IMMENSE MASSES

On top of the ground and which is found to be 80 feet wide with an ore streak of 15 feet. A drift has been run in this ore 60 feet and a winze sunk 50 feet with no wall so no one knows how big it is. The old ledge holds its own. The Winter's work is to be devoted to sinking the main shaft another 100 feet, making it in all 250 feet; and running in the tunnel which is now in 960 feet and will strike the ledge in 25 more. It will drain the mine to a depth of 400 feet, and will be on a level with the mill, so that ore cars can be run from anywhere in the mine to the dump. It will strike the ledge 400 feet from the shaft, but that it will run on the vein and will in reality be a prospecting or working drift from where it is now. If it should strike ore when it breaks the crossing the Antelope is the coming mine. The mill has been improved by the addition of tanks, settlers and pans, so that any kind of silver ore can be worked. The concentrators are to be changed from where they now are near the batteries to a point below the pans so that the tailings will run over them and nothing be wasted. Outsiders say that there is platinum in the ore and that the rock is getting harder to work. There is no water in the mine, but an old water line was found, and below it the ore is harder to work. The company, however, seem well pleased with their property. Mr. Clough of Boston is at the mine, and seems to be dividing his time about equally between business and pleasure. He thinks the climate here is a great inducement.

TRUCKEE ITEMS.

Scraps of Interest from Our Neighbor in the Hills.

Charles Griffin of Truckee is Engineering Clerk of the California Assembly.

Charley Barton is logging for Elle Ellen with his horse team. The snow is just deep enough for good logging. The lower end of Donner Lake is frozen over, and now affords splendid skating, and the young people of Truckee take advantage of it.

Elle Ellen and family are on an extended trip below. Both Mr. and Mrs. Ellen are in poor health, and they will remain in San Francisco for some time under the care of their physician.

For years past the Truckee Lumber Company have been compelled to burn their slabs, but they now have put in a machine which cuts this waste up into box material. It is similar to that used by McClellan & Lowden.

The trial of Eugene Milner, for assault upon Annie Hastings, resulted in Milner being fined $50.70, costs in the case.

Mark Brown was arrested yesterday on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Monday evening last he borrowed $8 from Mr. Bittancourt, depositing with him a check (f) for $38, signed by D. G. Webber. On being brought into court Brown pleaded guilty. He returned the $8 to Bittancourt, but Judge Keiser refused to dismiss the case, and Brown being unable to procure bail was taken to jail.

A Close Call.

As Superintendent Ware with some men was removing some ice and logs in the river at Camp 18, Tuesday, says the Republican, the ice gave away, and a Mr. Carr came near losing his life. John Plant jumped into the river and managed by great exertion to hold him up until the mill crew came with ropes and dragged him ashore. Mr. Carr was in an exhausted condition. Several of the mill men were in a rather damp condition.

RENO, Jan. 10, 1883.

ED. RENO GAZETTE:—Our salary law, which has now been in operation two years, seems to have benefitted a number of our counties largely, while other counties claim a loss to their treasuries under the same law, and various suggestions are being pressed upon the Legislature now in session for its repeal or amendment. Permit me to make a suggestion, which, if adopted, will satisfy the good people and taxpayers of every county in the State. It is to add this section: But in no case shall any county or township officer (except District Judge, Treasurer and Assessor) named in this act receive a greater amount for his salary during his term of office than the amount of fees collected by him for said term. This would not be special legislation and would place the small counties back where they were before the act took effect, while those counties benefited by the present law would still have that benefit. And further, this amendment would be a strong incentive to officers to "work up" their business in order to collect sufficient fees to pay their salaries. Having had a little experience in county matters, I venture the above suggestion for the consideration of our honorable legislative bodies as well as taxpayers. Yours, etc.,

TAXPAYER.

PERSONALS.

J. D. Fagg is visiting Reno friends. Frank Cluggage the stage man, is in town.

Colonel A. C. Ellis, Carson, was here last night.

J. V. Button of Petaluma, Cal., is registered at the Arcade.

E. Chielovich came up from San Francisco yesterday morning.

Captain A. C. Kistler of Cedarville came in last night and went below.

W. A. Morrison, of the Reno and Bidwell stage lines, is at the Palace.

Ex-Sheriff Ben Fitch, Elko, was a passenger for Sacramento last night.

D. L. Bliss and wife came on the morning train and went to Carson.

Wm. H. Crisler brought down the noon train to-day in the place of Mart Follet.

T. J. and W. W. Booher and L. M. Bassington of Virginia went east this morning.

M. B. Boss, a well-known inventor of many quartz mill improvements, was in town last night.

More Bad Luck.

A pinion of the spur-wheel of the incline engine at the Ophir works broke Wednesday night, says the Virginia Chronicle, and it will be several days before it can be repaired. A new spur-wheel will have to be procured and in all probability it will have to come from San Francisco. The Ophir has been hoisting water by tanks on the incline, and the accident to the machinery at this time renders it bad for the north-end mines.

Reno Literary Society.

There will be a meeting of the Reno Literary Society at the house of T. F. Laycock, in place of Mr. Barnett's, as appointed, at 7 p. m. sharp, this evening. All members are requested to attend.

NOTICE

TO THE PUBLIC

The copartnership now existing between S. M. Jamison and H. Hohenschild expires by limitation on the 20th of March, 1883, and in order to meet all obligations and effectually close the year's business we have decided to have a thorough clearance sale for the next 60 days, commencing January 2, 1883. Tremendous reductions in prices have been made in every department. Silks, satins, Velvets, Dress Goods, Fancy Goods, Hosiery, Laces, Gloves, Domestic Goods, Oil Cloths, Gents' Goods, Carpets, Cloaks, Dolmans, Ulsters, etc., will be reduced 33 1/2 per cent. on the dollar in order to reduce our stock to the lowest minimum. P. S.—All parties indebted to the firm are requested to settle at once. Sales begin at 8 a. m. Store closes at 8 p. m. until further notice.

PROCLAMATION TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC.

Take Notice! Take Notice! Take Notice!

Before deciding what purchase you will make for the Holiday season, call and see the magnificent line of presents now on display at I. Fredrick's Jewelry Establishment, where you can obtain goods both useful and ornamental in the line of Pins, Rings and Neck Chains of the latest designs and patterns; Lockets, Ear-rings and Bangles; Ladies' and Gents' Watches and Chains—solid gold or silver and nickel-plated. My silver-plated goods, consisting of Fine Water Pitchers, Toilet Sets and other useful as well as ornamental articles of Silver ware too numerous to mention, are of the best quality and the latest and most exquisite designs that could be purchased in the market. I will sell during the Holidays at Prices Lower Than Ever and to suit the present depressed state of times. The Rich as well as the Poor can be suited at my establishment. My past reputation for Fair Dealing and Low Prices, and my long experience in selecting none but the best quality of goods, I will endeavor to maintain in the future. Special Attention paid to repairing Watches and Jewelry at the Lowest Possible Rates, and All Work Intrusted to Me Guaranteed.

SUMMONS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE Second Judicial District of the State of Nevada, in and for the county of Washoe, The State of Nevada sends to Ardena Jones greeting:

You are hereby required to appear in an action commenced against you as defendant by Jemima Jones as plaintiff in the District Court of the Second Judicial District, in and for the county of Washoe, State of Nevada, and answer the complaint therein within ten days after the service on you of this summons (exclusive of the day of service). If served in said county, or twenty days if served out of said county, but within said District, and in all other cases forty days; or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint. The said action is brought to obtain a decree dissolving the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing between plaintiff and defendant. Plaintiff alleges: That plaintiff and defendant were lawfully married at Mono county, California, on or about July 5th, A. D. 1873, and ever since have been and now are husband and wife; that on or about Sept. 9th, A. D. 1873, the defendant, wilfully deserted and abandoned plaintiff, and ever since has continued, and now does so, to refuse to desert, accompany and live apart from plaintiff, against her will, wish or consent; that for more than a year next preceding the commencement of this action, plaintiff, the defendant, have failed and neglected, and now fail and neglect to provide for plaintiff the common necessities of life, which neglect is and was not the result of poverty on your part which you could not have avoided by ordinary industry; that there are no children living of the issue of said marriage, and no common property. Plaintiff prays to be restored to her maiden name, and for costs, all of which will more fully appear from the complaint which is on file in the office of the Clerk of said Court, at Reno, in said county and you are further notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint, the said plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief demanded.

In testimony whereof I, P. B. COMSTOCK, have hereunto set my hand and affixed the seal of said Court this 26th day of December, A. D. 1873.

P. B. COMSTOCK,
Clerk of the District Court of the Second Judicial District, Nevada, in and for Washoe county.
